

MASSIMO MAZZUCCO, Filmmaker/ Screenwriter/ Journalist.

Arguably one of the foremost 9/11 "truthers" in his country, award-winning filmmaker Massimo Mazzucco is also the editor of Luogocomune.net, a popular Italian news website that grew out of his investigation on 9/11. Currently the website covers all the most important issues at stake in the new millennium, from Big Pharma to world economics, from alternative energy to the attacks on civil liberties.

After an early career as a successful fashion photographer (portfolio), Mazzucco wrote and directed several feature films, both in Europe and the United States. After 9/11 he chose to turn all his efforts to documentaries in the digital format, releasing them on DVD and on-line. (Filmography).

Mazzucco's "Inganno Globale" (Global Deceit - 2005), is a documentary exposing the major faults in the 9/11 official story. It was broadcast on Italian TV (Berlusconi's Canale 5) in 2006, serving as a platform for a full-fledged national debate which made Italy the only country to date to have thoroughly discussed 9/11 in the mainstream media.

Mazzucco also participated in several television debates, presenting the Italian audience with the most up-to-date findings of the 9/11Truth Movement.

His second documentary on 9/11, "The New American Century" (2007), covers the political and historical aspects of the alleged "inside job," and in particular the history of the neocons.
