

Wayne Allyn Root has been branded by media across the globe as “the Capitalist Evangelist.”

A former Libertarian Vice Presidential nominee, Wayne is a fierce, enthusiastic and relentless defender of Reagan conservatism, Libertarianism, economic freedom and capitalism.

He is both a political and business personality in the national media. He is known for his fiery personality and unmatched levels of energy. On the political side, Wayne is a lifelong Republican-conservative firebrand, Fox News regular, and political commentator on hundreds of conservative talk radio stations.

Wayne is the author of three national best-selling conservative books- including the #1 bestseller in bookstores “The Ultimate Obama Survival Guide.” His other hit political books include, “The Murder of the Middle Class,” “Millionaire Republican,” and “The Conscience of a Libertarian.”

He is also one of the most popular syndicated columnists in the conservative world- with millions of readers at sites like FoxNews, TheBlaze, TownHall, Breitbart, PersonalLiberty and DailyCaller. His columns often appear at The Washington Times.

Wayne was not only on the Libertarian Presidential ticket in 2008, but the elected Chairman of the Libertarian National Campaign Committee and a twice- elected member of the Libertarian National Committee. Today he serves as Chairman of the National Campaign Committee for the Republican Liberty Caucus.

On the business side, Wayne is one of a kind. Most businessmen go by the standard titles “Chairman, CEO or President.” Wayne prefers “CRPE”- standing for Chief Rainmaker and Pitchman Extraordinaire...“CE” standing for Capitalist Evangelist...and “HEB” standing for Human Energizer Bunny.

His new business and personal development book is entitled, “The Power of RELENTLESS.” You can feel Wayne’s energy and intensity in every page.

Wayne is a high-profile CEO, serial entrepreneur, international business speaker, spokesman for many national and international companies, TV personality, media dynamo, and former anchorman and host for Financial News Network (now known as CNBC).

“Mr. RELENTLESS” has achieved success in business, politics, entertainment, sports, gaming, publishing and television production. Wayne has created, produced and sold three TV series in Hollywood.

Wayne never stops moving. He is in motion 24/7/365 days per year. He is quite simply...RELENTLESS!

Wayne is a graduate of Columbia University, Class of '83- along with his classmate President Barack Obama. Wayne resides in the suburbs of Las Vegas, Nevada- a place with zero state income tax, zero business income tax, zero capital gains tax, zero inheritance tax and the 9th lowest property taxes in America.